

December 16, 2024 Monday. 1-3 PM General Meeting. "Oppenheimer and Princeton"
- At Morven Museum Stockton Education Center. The talk was about Princeton's role in J. Robert Oppenheimer's life and the development of the atomic bomb. Inspired by Christopher Nolan's award-winning film, this talk showcased the places where Oppenheimer lived and worked in Princeton (some seen in the film), shared stories about the local academics recruited to work on the Manhattan Project, and provided additional context not explored in the movie. The program was presented by Eve Mandel from the Historical Society of Princeton, where she is Director of Programs and Outreach. Eve was joined by Heather Jahrling, who is a Visitor Services Associate at the Historical Society and a third year PhD student at Princeton University. Poster. Photos by Patrish Shalestik.
