"The Watershed Institute And Your Community"

Our speaker, Sophie Glovier, will give an overview of the Watershed Institute and how it is working with community members to address waterways issues. Topics to be covered will be flooding, water quality, water testing programs, monitoring waterways, and partnerships with local municipalities. The Watershed is also a beautiful place to visit with opportunities to connect to nature with a naturalist or on a walking trail.

Sophie Glovier is the Chief of Strategy and Program at The Watershed Institute where she is responsible for strategic planning and works with staff to develop and deliver programming that fulfills the organization's mission. Sophie has worked with elected officials and community members to develop and implement strong environmental protections at the local level and has led fundraising campaigns to preserve the 340- acre St. Michaels Preserve in Hopewell. Sophie is a graduate of Princeton University and Columbia Business School and received a Post Master's Certificate in Sustainability Strategy from the New School.

Event is free and open to the public.
